

Hormonal imbalance is one of the biggest in today's life. This is related with gynecological imbalance and also related with endocrinological imbalance.

It's difficult to treat by any path. No doubt there is very advance and aggressive treatment in other path, but prolong treatment can produce many side effects, which may lead secondary complication,

Some diseases ayurveda has its important role that it can treat individually or associated with allopath treatment